

Gold Member Bantry Bay Seafoods

About the Company

One of Ireland’s leading shellfish companies, Bantry Bay Premium Seafoods produces cooked mussels of the highest quality from its base on Ireland’s Atlantic coast, which is home to some of the world’s freshest and cleanest waters. As a family owned business with over 30 years of experience in the seafood industry, the company works tirelessly to harvest its premium shellfish from the company’s own organically certified farms which are processed in a 40,000 sq. ft state-of-the-art facility.

Spotlight Target Area: Energy/ Emissions

Bantry Bay Premium Seafoods embraces a mentality that recognises the close connection between the company’s day-to-day operational performance and the long-term sustainability of the environment and the local community. The company is dedicated to sustainability and prioritises safeguarding the health and wellness of everyone involved within its supply chain – including consumers, the environment, and its employees.

Throughout 2021, Bantry Bay Premium Seafoods displayed a robust performance, excelling in particular in the areas of Energy and Product Health & Nutrition. Within the Energy target area, the company reduced electricity consumption on a per unit basis by 10.5% over 2020 levels. Striving to maintain this strong performance throughout the remainder of its existing Origin Green plan, the company also undertook an energy evaluation in 2022 as part of Bord Iascaigh Mhara’s (BIM) Green Seafood Business Programme in conjunction with Cork’s Clean Technology Centre to identify further areas of improvement into the future.

GOLD MEMBER
2022

“We are delighted and honoured to become an Origin Green Gold Member. Sustainability is at the very essence of what we do in Bantry Bay. From the very beginning of our process working with nature in one of the worlds cleanest natural bay’s. We are very proud of the work put in by our team to achieve results across the manufacturing process, our raw material supply, and the social dividend we have achieved. We will strive to continuously improve in all areas of the business and make sure sustainability is at the heart of all we do as we grow our business.”
